Presentation of the material:

1. Tell the child that today you will be discussing the paintings of Vincent Van Gogh.
2. Present the child with several category names. They are as follows:
 - Fields
 - Portraits
 - Still lifes
 - Towns
 - Trees
 - People in the village

Each category is associated with a color. Place the corresponding colored dots on the back of each painting. These will serve as controls for errors.

3. For younger children, you might start with only a couple of categories and introduce more later.
4. Show the child some paintings and ask which category they believe each one fits into best.
5. Sort all the paintings. Afterward, turn all the paintings upside down and check the colored dots for accuracy.
6. Engage the child in a discussion about the paintings.
